

Canada Flag

On February 15, 1965 the modern Canadian flag with the maple leaf was adopted as the official Canadian flag.

The maple leaf is a recognized symbol of Canada and has come to symbolize unity, tolerance, and peace.

According to many historians, the maple leaf has served as a Canadian symbol since the 18th century.

Today the Canadian flag features a stylized, red, 11 pointed maple leaf.

Color in the below outline to match the Canadian flag.

